Circular letter.

No.7073
Legal Department,
Bombay Castle, 25th May 1950.

Subject:- Supply of Paper Book Copies to Public Prosecutors.

To

All the District and Sessions Judges

All the Public Prosecutors.

The Home Department.

The Registrar, High Court, Appellate Side, Bombay.

It has been brought to Government's notice that the practice regarding the supply of copies of paper-books to Public Prosecutors is not uniform in all the districts of this State. In some districts Public Prosecutors get such copies free of cost while in others they are required to make payment first and subsequently charge it to Government The practice of requiring a Public Prosecutor to pay for his copy of the paper-book arose out of the system of Section-Writers being paid on the basis of piece-work. Now that the Section-Writers have become full-time Government servants, there is no reason for charging Public Prosecutors who are Government's Law Officers, for the copies of paper books supplied to them. Government, therefore, desires that the system of making a charge for the copy supplied to the Public Prosecutor should henceforth be discontinued and the copy should be supplied him free of cost along with the copy which is supplied to the Sessions Judge.

2. Sessions Judges are, therefore, requested to issue necessary instructions for the supply of copies to Public Prosecutors free of cost.
